School Libraries Matter: Views From the Research: Views from the Research

As school districts across the United States increasingly question the need for trained librarians, this collection of research-based evidence helps make the case for a state-licensed librarian in every school.

- Utilizes evidence-based findings to explain why school libraries—and trained librarians—matter
- Illustrates the progression of ideas around current education debates
- Shares numerous examples of quantitative and qualitative research design and application
- Summarizes the importance of each study and its practical application for working school librarians
